HOW CAN EDUCATORS EFFECTIVELY SERVE TRAUMA-IMPACTED STUDENTS WHEN THEY DON'T HAVE MENTAL HEALTH TRAINING?

Who should attend?

- Educators, Specialists, Service Providers
- Mental Health Providers, Parents, Caregivers & Advocates

What will I learn?

- ✓ Clarity regarding the difference between roles, approaches, limitations & opportunities of educators and mental health staff in serving trauma-impacted students
- ✓ Next-Level Dive into what the neuroscience and other related fields show us about how to impact the nervous system, brain and body impacted by trauma for improved regulation, development & learning
- ✓ Examination of powerful ways in which thoughtfully designed educational practices can have a truly therapeutic impact on the brain & nervous system of a child with trauma impacts, resulting in behavioral growth and access to a brain that's capable of learning
- ✓ Application - how to plan actionable and strategies & practices to incorporate into the educational day that will have ongoing impact for students without demanding more time and work from staff
